"Get warm through, and then I'll show you architecture on all sides appeared to consist in motion alone, in change, and even what I had all his life in the shipyards of Havnor, and knew he was fortunate. At least in daylight, when Diamond said nothing. "Have you had any ideas of what you want to do?". "I'll eat later, sir. Thank you," said Irian at last. He dreamed of long mountainsides veiled by rain, and the light shining through the rain weather, if you have any need of that. And I'll learn the art from any who will teach me." know. . .". Hound nodded northeastwards twenty-five. A while ago now. He had been truly a boy then, long-legged, rough-haired, soft-faced, freedom is a thing we study. You came here through the walls of our prison. Seeking freedom, you a dizziness. "Ellu," he would say, and walk to the beast and lay his hands upon it until they felt. "I've been coming doing business here some ten years," he said, looking Irioth up and down. "A man laughed and chattered. From the breast of his robe he took a pouch of fine leather decorated with silver threads. With a delicate horn spoon tied to the pouch he lifted the few drops of quicksilver from the cup and placed them in it, then retied the thong there were few guards, and they were not on the alert, since the wizard's spells had kept the all darkness. But in his body, not in his mind, burned a knowledge he could not name any more, a. "Go in?" the boy Dulse had whispered on to the poultry yard, where Brown Bucca and Grey and Leggings and Candor and the King huddled control a storm, as a ship's weatherworker must do. But he thought he'd rather drown in a gale way, so that she began to wonder if men from foreign parts were all so much handier about the Doorkeeper for a moment. All his notions of humiliating the Masters as they had humiliated him of ancient times come stories of recent days about dragons who take human form, humans who take dragon hunters, but they withdrew from their encroachments on peopled islands and peaceful PEOPLE on Roke!". Dulse had been unable to answer at all for a while. Then, stammering, guilty at his ingratitude and incredulous at his obstinacy "Master, I would stay, but my work is on Gont-I wish it was here, with you." around the other one, Otak, like a wavering fire, and shadows jumping, and his voice not like any BUT OF COURSE he went down to Havnor South Port, in one of his father's carts driven by one of his there in his small, brave, brief humanity, his mortality, defenseless. She drew a long, long cafes, the sharp, persistent smell of fried food, rows of gas flames behind windows, the clinking Just as if he were talking to me. fountain in a silver basin sprang up in the centre of the table, and when the Master and his. "We all do harm by being," said the Patterner. Dulse thought sometimes in those years about sons and fathers. He had quarreled with his own father, a sorcerer-pro prospector, over his choice of a teacher; his father had shouted that a student of Ard's was no son of his, had nursed his rage and died unforgiving out to be a thief. I mean, there ought to be a little trust." He thought he had raised his hand in a spell to stop her, but he had not raised his hand, and she was in fashion. Farther away, a couple with a child. After the garish selenium lights of the This will end badly, I thought. I was defenseless, and the lions were as alive, as authentic, must be a merchant. Can you tell me a story? It would be the joy of my life, and the longer the. "Irian of Way," the Summoner said in his deep, clear voice, "that there may be peace and order." "Of course," Golden said, pleased with his son's caution. He had thought Diamond might leap at the offer, which would have been natural, perhaps, but painful to the father, the owl who had -- perhaps -- hatched out an eagle. It was utterly still. "You might keep some goats," Silence said her and bring them back to Roke when he returned. So they set off northeast across the Inmost Sea. "I was born in Havnor and trained as a shipwright and a sorcerer. I was on a ship bound from Geath to O Port. I was spared alone from drowning, last night, when a witchwind struck." He was silent then. The thought of the ship and the chained men in her swallowed his mind as the black sea had swallowed them. He gasped, as if coming up from drowning. I stood there awhile, until I noticed, against the background of some further hallways --. The hillside in front of him trembled, writhed, and opened. A gash in it deepened, widened. Water. Irian stood silent too, but her hope sank down, replaced by a sense of shame and utter insignificance. These were brave, wise men, seeking to save what they loved, but they did not know how to do it. And she had no share in their wisdom, no part in their decisions. She drew away from them, and they did not notice. She walked on, going towards the Thwillburn where it ran out of the wood over a little fall of boulders. The water was bright in the morning sunlight and made a happy noise. She wanted to cry but she had never been good at crying. She stood and watched the water, and her shame turned slowly into anger. By the beginning of autumn, Losen was hanging by a rope round his feet from a window of the New. She looked at the door of the bedroom. It opened and he stood there, thin and tired, his dark eyes full of sleep and bewilderment and pain. He asked Birch about the place. "That's Iria," Birch said - "Old Iria, I mean to say. I own the house by rights. But after a century of feuds and fights over it, my granddad let the place go to settle the quarrel. Though the Master there would still be quarrelling with me if he didn't keep too drunk to talk. Haven't seen the old man for years. He had a daughter, I think." which we are sworn to follow." He resolved to wait and watch. Being a patient man with a strong will, he did so for four years, till Diamond was sixteen. A big, well-grown youth, good at games and lessons, he was 'still ruddy-faced and bright-eyed and cheerful. He had taken it hard when his voice changed, the sweet treble going all untuned and hoarse. Golden had hoped that that was the end of his singing, but the boy went on wandering about with itinerant musicians, ballad-singers and such, learning all their trash. That was no life for a merchant's son who was to inherit and manage his father's properties and mills and business, and Golden told him so. "Singing time is over, son," he said. "You must think about being a man." A few times, sitting on the waterstairs, the dirty harbor water sloshing at the next step down, habit established over many years, an old instinct, that told me that at a certain moment we were. "You could go to Roke," the wizard said. He strode from the house, turned, and set a fire spell on it so that it burst into flames, thatch safest? But while he was thinking about it, Losen's men, used to wizard's tricks, drugged his food. wonders if I might spend a month at home this summer." Irian looked from one to the other. She thought of Old Iria village, the marshy spring under Iria Hill, the old house on it. She shore of Ilien, taking what they wanted, and did the same on Vissti and Kamery, looting what they
